

NEVADA'S EXHIBIT.

The Counties All Propose to Stand in and Help the State.

The Nevada commission to the World's Fair at St. Louis are asking aid from the various counties of the State to help out in the expenses.

It is proposed to have each county represented separately in the Nevada building. The $20,000 appropriation, the smallest of any State in the union, must be placed out by county aid.

Already the enterprising county of Storey proposes to raise $3,000 by private subscription among the mines to show the world that the old Comstock has not been its final, but is still a living, palpable exponent of the mining industry.

Douglas will give $500; Ormsby, the smallest county geographically in the State, will give $150. Letters have come from nearly every county in the State to Mr. Yerington, relative to extending aid to the project, through the Board of County Commissioners.

It is a matter of vital interest to the whole State and it is to be hoped that not a single Board of Commissioners in Nevada will fail to give something to help the individual county exhibits.

A BEAUTIFUL CEREMONY.

Blessing The New Altar in Tonopah Catholic Church.

The new altar which arrived in Tonopah last week from Louisville, Ky., has been installed in the Catholic church, and the ceremony of blessing it took place at a special "Mass Cantata," at 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

The artistic design and finish of the altar equals, if it does not excel, anything of the kind in the State of Nevada, the Miner states. The style of purely Gothic, with pointed arches surmounted by pinnacles and embellished at the corners with carved crockets of light walnut, the entire structure being composed of this material. The interior of the arches and all underlying parts of the protruding woodwork are finished in an exquisite shade of blue, which, with a rich trimming of gold, gives to the structure a chaste, yet highly ornate appearance.

The style and proportions of the altar are in pleasing harmony with the architectural lines of the church, and when the latter, showing throughout the natural grain of the wood, shall have been stained and varnished, the whole interior of the edifice will present a pleasing blending of color and form well worthy of admiration. The altar, which was selected by Rev. Father Butler from cuts and designs furnished by the builders, Messrs. Lausberg & Macke, of Louisville, is in every respect a model of artistic design and mechanical skill.

Jas. Creagan Crane, the alleged Winnemucca forger, has waived his right to preliminary examination, and will await the action of the grand jury.

Frank Everett, the mining superintendent, has gone south on mining business.

Ray Richard is visiting his father and mother in Tonopah.

A New Office.

A new law provides that upon the receipt of a petition signed by some twenty-five or more owners of trees, the Board of County Commissioners may create a new office to be known as County Horticulturist. His duties are to act as guardian of the trees, condemn those past redemption and to order such treatment of others as he may find necessary to preserve them and prevent the spreading of scale, etc.

Petitions are being circulated with a view of securing such an official for Carson.

Unless some action is taken soon, Carson will have no trees worth considering in a few years.

Bands Will Unite.

The Nevada State Band of Carson will entertain the Reno Wheelmen's Band in the Capital city next Sunday October 11th. The combined bands comprising forty instruments, will give an open air concert in the Capitol grounds in the afternoon. A round trip rate of $1 has been granted by the V. & T. railroad for the day and everybody can take advantage of the occasion.—Journal.

Relief Corps Inspection.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard departed for Reno yesterday.

WORTH A TRY OUT.

Hop Raising is Recommended by a Gentleman From California

A gentleman who lately located in this city from California and who has been looking over the field of resources of Carson and her valley, has come to the conclusion that hop raising is about the proper career in this valley.

He stated that he has observed that hops grow in this valley as no other plant. He stated that in nearly every yard in Carson there is a hop vine that takes care of itself and produces some of the finest specimens of hops that he has ever had the fortune to see. That there is no use to put the vine outside of a few of the older ladies who still insist in raising bread and curing peaches from the product of the vine. In California, on the contrary, the hop industry is one of the leading industries, and many localities are given over entirely to the cultivation and growth of this valuable and hardy plant. The revenue from the hop culture of California is one of the heaviest of the State and the best of the product finds a ready foreign market.

The gentleman figures that the same condition could be brought about here. The land is as rich as any used on the other side and the hops that are grown far exceed the California varieties in bearing and fruit. This being the case, he figures that Eagle valley is overlooking one of the best things that nature handed down.

He observed the Indians going and coming from this State to pick hops in the fields of California, and this, with what has been observed, led to the remarks that were passed. The Indians of this vicinity put in a number of weeks every year in the hop fields of California, where they are paid scant wages and their help is found to be the best that can be hired. They are now educated in the business and the first Nevada man who takes advantage of the fact, will reap a harvest that will surprise him and his friends.

There is no question as to the profitability of this scheme. Nearly everyone who owns yard room has a hop vine or two for ornamental purposes and many pounds of this valuable product is allowed to go to waste every year in every section of Nevada where any pretense is made toward beautifying the home or cultivation of any plant. The vine could be raised on a broad scheme as well as the small. Every industry starts with the experimental stage, and the success of hops is assured here, as they have been allowed to climb over a hundred trellises in this city. If people will urk beer, and they say that it made Milwaukee famous, so will hops be used, and the chance for Nevada to help furnish the supply can readily be seen.

If there is anyone looking for a chance to enter a new field, and one that offers a rapid return for the cash out lay, let him plant a field to hops and the cash will be handed in as soon as the hops are gathered, and there is no chance of failure, as can be seen in every section of Carson and her valley.

It takes the stranger to see the natural advantages that are abundant in Eagle Valley.

A Musical Treat in Store for Next Sunday.

Arrangements are nearly completed by the Nevada State Band for the reception of their guests from Reno on Sunday next. The Reno boys will be given the kind of treatment that has made Carson's hospitality famous. The people at large are going to lend a hand and no pains will be spared to make the visit of the Wheelmen band one long to be remembered. It is reported that a large crowd will accompany the band from Reno.

The visitors will be cordially received and when the two bands get together under one leader some music extraordinary can be looked for, as both bands have reputations in the musical line. The late popular music will be turned loose in such quantity and quality that it will be well worth coming a long ways to hear.

Attorney Torreyson was an arrival from Reno yesterday morning.

A franchise for a street railway line in Reno was granted by the City Council of the Riverside town Tuesday evening, subject to the approval of the qualified voters at a special election to be held November 10th.

MAKES LARGE CATCH.

Mrs. John Rosser Has the Trout Catch Record.

To Mrs. John Rosser, of this city, belongs the honor of having landed the finest catch of trout that has come out of Carson river this season. On Tuesday last, after a visit to Carson river, she returned to this city with five large trout, the largest one of which weighed four pounds and one-half and the next four pounds.

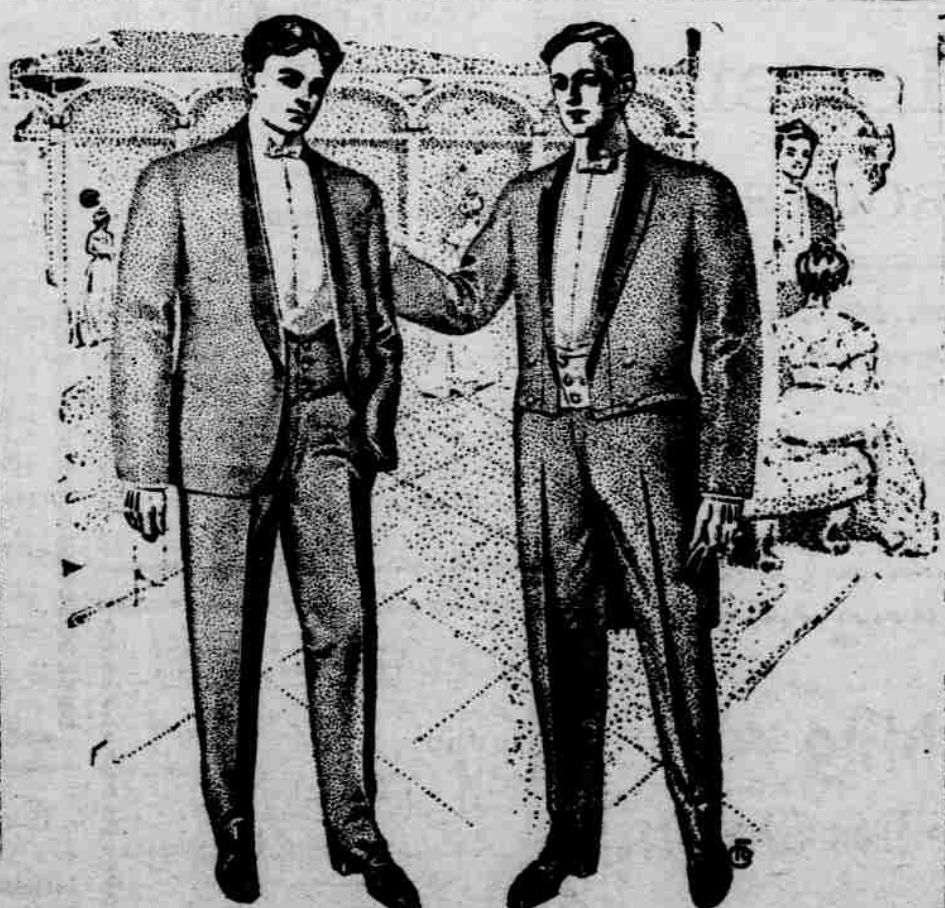

Mrs. Rosser is an expert with the rod and line and has this season clearly demonstrated that she is far ahead of the sportsmen who visit Carson river. The men folks are getting quite envious and it is even hinted that her movements will be closely watched the next time she visits the river in search of the festive trout.

Burial of James Holbrook.

James Holbrook was buried yesterday under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge, of which he was a member.

Many old friends gathered to pay a last tribute and there were numerous floral offerings laid upon the casket.

Mrs. Woodland Gates is visiting this city. Mrs. Gates was formerly Miss Lizzie Likens.

SOCIETY MEN

by reason of their eminence in social circles must necessarily be all that is perfect in matters sartorial. Their dress requirements are most exacting and are subject to the most rigid and critical inspection. Gentlemen whose social duties call for the best in the tailor's art, together with strict exactness in the matter of style propriety, would do well to look into the merits of

"INTERNATIONAL" GARMENTS.

They excel in all those little points, without which, quality and workmanship, avail nothing. We show their complete line and take measurements.

A HEALTHY SHOWING.

Comstock Has the Largest Payday in Twelve Years.

People who have been talking of the old Comstock as a dead town and as being worked out must go 'way back to the back door and back out. The payday for last month was the largest in twelve years, amounting to over $70,000. And this amount is likely to be increased, as the development work now under way assumes shape. There is not a boom on in the old town—not one of these skyrockets affairs—but a steady, healthy growth, which has come to stay, and which will put the greatest mining town of them all again in the front row of producers.

The feeling of confidence that pervades the Comstock extends across the continent, as the following item in the New York Sun of September 28th shows the deep interest taken there in the mines of this city: "The work of draining the Consolidated California & Virginia shaft of the Comstock is going on steadily. The 2320-foot level has been reached, so that only 200 feet more must be drained before the lowest level will be free from water; then exploration and development of this lowest level may be carried on. Everyone interested in mining on this coast is watching the work of draining the deepest mine of the Pacific slope. The task was stupendous, and when the big pumps have cleared the shaft they will be called on to drain other shafts near by. If the exploration of this lowest level, 2520 feet shows the presence of good ore it will mean the revival of good times on the Comstock. It is fifteen years since an ore body of any size has been found. At that time, in this same mine, $6,000,000 was taken out in a few months. Then the 'pocket' pinched out and since then the ore has been only average, just rich enough to pay expenses and a small margin over."—Enterprise.

Will Arrive.

Today Albert Meyers, who holds the concession to run the Forty-Nine camp at the St. Louis fair, will arrive in Carson. He is on the track of relics from the Pacific coast. He will invest $100,000 in the enterprise. While here he will be the guest of Controller Davis, who started the original '49 camp at the Mid Winter fair in San Francisco.
